The Late D. D. Porter Command. General R. G. Dyrenforth, commander-in chief of the Union Veteran Union, has for warded to The Star a copy of a letter he has received from "P. C. Bain, late lieu, tenant colonel of the late D. D. Porter Command, No. 16, U. V. U., and acting adjutent thereof," stating that in reference to the contention over that command, that John N. Ehle, who wrote a communication and signed himself "Adjutant D. D. Porter Command," never served as adjutant New York, at No. 842 Ocean avenue, Brookof that command. Mr. Bain adds: "The minute book of D. D. Porter Command was turned over to me by the late adjutant; P. C. George, long before the question of the resolutions ever came up, and this min-nte book has never been out of my posses-sion since. I was appointed acting adju-tant in January last, and performed the duties as such to and including the reading of general order No. 8, which ended the life of the command. The statements given by Colonel Worden and Colonel Plerce as by Colonel Worden and Colonel Pierce as to the numerical strength and the vote of to the numerical strength and the vote of the command, are correct, and will be borne out by the minutes, which were regularly approved and adopted
